Winter Crisis Worsens

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio, New York and New Jersey were under energy emergencies today as officials sought to conserve dwindling natural gas supplies. The fuel crisis in the Northeast threatened to add more than 250,000 new layoffs to the ranks of the estimated 400,000 already "energy unemployed."

Meanwhile, the governors of Florida, Pennsylvania and Tennessee asked President Carter to declare their states disaster areas.

And an Arctic cold front settling over the Midwest and East was expected to drop temperatures to below zero and possibly cause some cuts in natural gas supplies for residential users.

In Washington, Congress was scheduled today to take up President Carter's emergency energy proposal that would give him power to redirect natural gas supplies to energy starved areas.

The unusually cold weather east of the Rocky Mountains has already closed some 4,000 plants and caused the 400,000 layoffs, according to federal energy officials. Officials in several states said they expect applications for unemployment benefits and food stamps to soar because of layoffs caused by the natural gas shortages.

Elsewhere in the freeze belt Thursday, officials in Philadelphia declared a state of emergency because of natural gas shortages; blizzard conditions swept northern Illinois and parts of Michigan; the Mississippi, Ohio and Illinois Rivers were frozen and barges carrying oil and other supplies remained locked in ice; temperatures hit minus 30 in North Dakota and Minnesota and minus 4 in Chicago, and Kentucky agriculture officials estimated animal deaths, production losses and high feed bills were costing the state's farmers an estimated $2 million daily.

Ohio Gov. James Rhodes declared an energy emergency Thursday but withheld, at least for now, sweeping powers the declaration gives him to close schools and businesses and reallocate fuel supplies.

Rhodes said his action was prompted by subzero temperatures due in the state this weekend, along with virtual cutoffs Thursday of some school and all industrial natural gas supplies.

Earlier Thursday, all major gas utilities in the state limited most large industrial users to maintenance levels. The shutdowns, designed to protect gas supplies for residential users, were expected to cause 250,000 layoffs.

Ohio school Supt. Martin Essex said that more than 400 of the state's 617 school districts will close today until further notice.

New York Gov. Hugh Carey's state of emergency empowered the State Energy Office and the Public Service Commission to take whatever steps necessary to cut down natural gas consumption.

Officials said there was no chance of cutoffs for residences, but they urged homeowners to turn down their thermostats and do everything possible to conserve fuel.

As he issued the emergency order, Carey also directed the National Guard to mobilize to help Buffalo and Erie County dig out from snow and ice. The area had been paralyzed during the day by a blizzard, which came on top of already record snowfalls.

Gov. Brendan Byrne ordered almost all public buildings and most apartment houses and hotels in New Jersey to immediately turn down thermostats.

The governor acted as possibilities increased that a major energy crisis would confront the state and as three of the four gas companies serving New Jersey announced natural gas cuts to industrial and commercial users that could put at least 25,000 workers off the job.

Pennsylvania Gov. Milton Shapp said Thursday he has asked President Carter to declare an emergency in his state and give it excess natural gas supplies from other states.

The natural gas crisis will force some Pennsylvanians into mass care centers unless nonessential businesses comply with Gov. Shapp's request to close, a spokesman for the governor predicted.

Shapp made his plea for the mass closings in a statewide television address Thursday night as the latest cold wave approached the state.

On Wednesday Shapp ordered all public and private schools in the state closed for three days to conserve natural gas supplies.

Some 50,000 workers already have been laid off in Pennsylvania and the number could double within two weeks, Paul Smith, state secretary of Labor and Industry, said Thursday.

In Philadelphia, Mayor Frank Rizzo declared a gas emergency. He told the city-owned gas works to notify all 2,400 commercial and industrial customers to turn thermostats to 55 degrees and halt nonessential uses. Rizzo said he wanted to protect supplies to some 540,000 homes.

Florida's Gov. Reubin Askew asked President Carter Thursday for a disaster declaration to ease the economic losses suffered in last week's killer freeze. Askew asked Carter to include 35 counties on the Florida peninsula in the disaster declaration. It covers the peninsula south from St. Augustine on the Atlantic Coast to Yankeetown on the Gulf.

Askew estimated agricultural losses in the area at $358 million and said that all available state funds had been exhausted.

He estimated that 50,000 workers are without jobs now. He said the eventual figure could go as high as 100,000.

Gov. Ray Blanton asked Thursday for federal disaster funds for natural gas-starved Tennessee, while East Tennessee Natural Gas Co. signed a contract with three Texas wells to purchase additional supplies of the increasingly scarce fuel.

More Ohio Plants Close

The count of Ohioans jobless because of gas cutbacks to industry was to continue today as state officials operating under energy crisis conditions try to discover the full unemployment impact.

The state's Energy Emergency Management Committee in Columbus said it will complete a survey of layoffs and report to Gov. John A. Rhodes, who declared the statewide energy crisis Thursday.

Four Ohio gas utilities, responding to short supplies and a forecast of sub-zero weather for this weekend, limited the state's largest industries to maintenance level gas allotments Thursday before the governor's crisis declaration.

"We think it is a crisis," said William Chaddock, spokesman for Columbia Gas of Ohio, the state's largest gas supplier and one of the four. "We have been doing all of the things the governor has urged utilities to do and will continue to do so in the days and weeks ahead."

In Dayton, a spokesman for Dayton Power & Light Co. said his company "agrees with the governor that everything possible should be done to keep energy flowing for the welfare of the 1.3 million people in our service territory."

As many as a quarter of a million persons may be out of work due to plant shutdowns, a spokesman for the energy committee said.

Plants throughout Ohio started grinding to a halt after virtually all large gas-burning industries were ordered to burn only enough gas to keep facilities and equipment from freezing until further notice.

Other major gas consumers, including many businesses and schools in the Columbus, Dayton and Cincinnati areas, were asked to voluntarily maintain maintenance levels. "At this time, we feel that if everyone will cooperate, we will be able to maintain service throughout the state," said Chaddock, of Columbia Gas.

The gas utilities expect residential users to make near peak demands from gas supplies already at levels normally seen in late February.

Here is a rundown of the major gas utilities and the cutbacks they initiated to meet the expected weekend demand:

—COLUMBIA GAS: Ordered about 570 large, special contract industrial and commercial users to burn gas at maintenance levels, and requested an additional 1,500 large industrial and commercial users to do the same.

—EAST OHIO GAS CO.: Continued allotments for plant protection only to 1,100 industrial customers until midnight Monday, and possibly through Wednesday. The restrictions began in East Ohio's 18-county area Jan. 17, but includes no commercial or residential customers.

—DAYTON POWER & LIGHT CO.: Ordered 1,277 major gas users, both industrial and commercial, to limit gas use to maintenance levels.

—CINCINNATI GAS & ELECTRIC: Cut gas deliveries by 80 per cent, or just enough to protect equipment and facilities from freezing, to 406 industrial and commercial customers, including 75 schools.

CG&E also asked all stores to curtail or close voluntarily during the peak demand period.

Carter Gets Quick Energy Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter is getting fast congressional action on his emergency energy proposals, but some lawmakers want assurances that the legislation won't delay action on long-range plans to end price controls on natural gas.

The House Commerce Committee scheduled a hearing today on Carter's emergency energy proposal and the Senate, which waived committee hearings, slated floor debate on the plan.

White House energy adviser James Schlesinger is the leadoff witness before the House panel, which also was to hear from members of the Federal Power Commission and representatives of gas pipeline companies, natural gas producers and consumer groups.

Carter is seeking fast congressional action on his request for authority to deal with the cold-spawned natural gas crisis that has closed schools and businesses in a number of states. His plan would allow allocation of natural gas among interstate pipelines, temporarily remove price controls from some gas and give the President the power to send gas to the areas that most need it.

Currently, the areas hit hardest are the Southeast, the Northeast and parts of the Midwest where unusually cold weather has made shortages worse.

In some areas of the country where temperatures have not been as cold, such as the Pacific Northwest, small emergency supplies of gas are available for transfer. But there is no guarantee that there is enough of a reserve to spread around to all critical areas.

Lawmakers from gas-producing states, who want assurances that the emergency legislation won't foreclose later action on a long-range bill to remove price controls from natural gas, held a strategy session Thursday. They reportedly agreed to try to hold Carter to his campaign promise to support decontrol and have already submitted numerous amendments to the administration plan.

They include one that would require Carter to submit a decontrol plan to Congress within 90 days.

There is also some sentiment for amendments to guarantee against shortages developing in states which now have adequate supplies.

But Carter's proposal still has broad support in Congress and passage early next week is possible.

Those who want federal price controls lifted permanently from interstate gas pipelines say this is the only way to encourage the gas industry to invest in seeking significant new supplies.

Some Gulf Coast lawmakers are proposing amendments to protect gas supplies in their home regions. Sen. Bennett Johnston, D-La., wants the legislation to specify that gas cannot be diverted from producing states except for dire emergencies where home-heating is threatened.

Gas Customers Urged To Turnback Thermostats

Columbia Gas of Ohio appealed to its Circleville and Pickaway County residential and commercial customers to turn back thermostats and reduce natural gas consumption to a minimum. This is to help offset the heavy drain sub-zero temperatures are expected to make on available gas supplies during the next few days.

The Gas Co. already has contacted all industries and asked them to reduce gas usage to only those volumes needed to keep facilities from freezing.

The Company is urging residential users to reduce their thermostats as low as possible below 65 degrees; to turn back thermostats even further at night; to shut off heat to all unused rooms; to pull shades and close draperies; to use wood and coal fireplaces whenever possible, but to keep fireplace dampers closed when not in use; and to reduce hot water usage.

Commercial customers are urged to limit hours of operation, turn back thermostats and take whatever other steps are necessary to cut back on gas usage.

The company is requesting customers to begin cutting back on consumption immediately and to keep the cut backs in effect until further notice.

A company spokesman said if everyone cooperates the company feels it will be able to maintain service thruout the state. However, he offered some tips on what should be done to protect homes or other facilities should gas service be discontinued for an extended period of time with temperatures below freezing.

They include turning off the main water valve, opening all water faucets and draining the hot waterheater so that pipes will not freeze and burst; drain or sponge water from commode water closets and traps; draining water from all sink traps or fill with anti-freeze solution diluted approximately 50 per cent; draining all hot water heating systems and store any canned foods or jars that could freeze near a drain in the basement.

If gas service is lost and if a customer leaves his residence, the Company requests that a tag or note be attached to the front door stating where the customer can be contacted when gas service is ready to be restored.

Schools, Industries Closing Down Locally

Virtually all central Ohio Schools were closed today, including Circleville and the three county schools.

Cancellations

Saint Joseph's Church is canceling the CCD Sunday School classes this week. This is for both the regular classes and pre-school.

The Senior Citizen Band has canceled all rehearsals and activities until the weather improves.

The Senior Center will be closed today, but if weather permits the staff will be at the center next week as usual. "While we are not canceling our activities we do not encourage senior citizens to leave their homes and come out in this type of weather," Wanda Hamilton, director, reported.

A hymn sing at Calvary United Methodist Church scheduled Saturday has been postponed but will be rescheduled at a later date.

The Historical Society Museum at the Clarke-May House will be closed effective Jan. 30 and will remain closed through the month of February.

Judge Charles Hosterman of Circleville Municipal Court announced that the court will be closed today and for the remainder of the weekend.

During the energy crisis, the court will continue to open at 8:30 a.m. Monday through Friday to hear regularly scheduled cases. However, Judge Hosterman said it would be wise to telephone the court before making an unnecessary trip.

Every effort will be made to keep the clerk's office open.

Scout Master James Heacock, rear, and Scouts Eric Archer, Steve Davis, Stephen Hedges, and Andy Hedges, present the troop check to Dick Penn, center, of the YMCA Building Fund. The Scout gift brings the YMCA Capital Fund total to $425,000. Troop 52, as with many scout troops and youth organizations, make monthly trips during the winter to the Lancaster and Chillicothe YMCAs for swimming opportunities. For Troop 52, a Y pool is a good investment, for many of their swimming, life saving, canoeing, and scuba merit badges can be worked on and passed with the help of the YMCA aquatic staff. Overall, the YMCA will be able to provide expanded service to many youth groups in Pickaway County. For the past nine years, the local Y has provided facilities for many youth groups such as Boy Scouts, church youth groups, Girl Scouts, Key Club, DeMolay, Order of the Arrow, Volunteers for Youth, Community Action Day care, Knights of Columbus Hoop Shoot, CHS Band Parties, and Multi-Media First Aid Courses.

Silent Tragedy High Winds For Fish Topple Trailer In Midwest

By JIM FARRELL
Associated Press Writer

A silent tragedy is under way in the Upper Midwest as millions of fish smother, victims of one of the driest summers in decades and a viciously cold winter.

In Iowa, Minnesota and Michigan, dozens of shallow natural lakes have been opened to "promiscuous fishing," allowing anglers to take unlimited quantities of all fish by any means short of poison or dynamite.

The fish are dying of oxygen starvation. Conservation officials say the first to go are the gamefish; the survivors if any, will be carp and other rough fish.

The officials believe it is better that the fish be harvested now rather than simply rot.

"It's a combination of low water, thick ice, a heavy snow cover and excessive decaying vegetation," said Jerry Conley, superintendent of fisheries for the Iowa Conservation Commission.

The oxygen supply in the water is decreasing because sunlight cannot get through the thick ice and heavy snow to the live plants that produce oxygen through photosynthesis, he explained.

The problem is compounded by the drought-induced low water levels that force the fish to compete in a smaller universe, and by abnormally heavy concentrations of decaying plant matter which consume the oxygen.

The high levels of nutrients in the water are to blame for excessive plant life.

In Wisconsin, a commercial fisherman working out of Ferryville says the Upper Wisconsin River "is dead" because of the severe conditions.

Ohio Liquor Law Violations Noted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Violations of Ohio's liquor laws were cited by enforcement officers in record numbers last year, the Ohio Department of Liquor Control said Thursday.

A total of 2,713 liquor permit holders were issued citations for various violations in 1976, up from the 2,259 citations issued the year previous.

Gambling charges were issued in 502 cases, up from the 381 in 1975; violations involving persons under the age of 21 resulted in 1,470 charges, up from 1,194; after hours sales and consumption charges rose to 310, up from 242; and improper conduct citations reached 332, up from 253.

Liquor control department director Clifford E. Reich said the department has been concentrating its enforcement push on bars where serious crimes have been committed.

Once citations are issued, permit holders are required to appear before the Ohio Liquor Control Commission, which is authorized to suspend or revoke licenses.

Private Detectives Come Under Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — If the telephone rings and it's somebody wanting to know what kind of detergent you use, watch out: it might be a private detective snooping into your life.

At least that's what the Privacy Protection Study Commission learned Wednesday from an official of the nation's third largest investigating firm.

John S. Ammarell, executive vice president of the Wackenhut Corp. of Coral Gables, Fla., gave the illustration when asked by Rep. Barry Goldwater Jr., R-Calif., if the agency's investigators used pretexts to get information.

"You might for example call up and ask the lady of the house what type of detergent or soap she might use and she'd tell you and you would indicate to her you would like to come out on Monday, or whenever she does her washing, and take a picture of her," Ammarell said.

"Then you would get a picture of a person who was claiming she had a serious back injury and who was proceeding to wash and hang up a big batch of laundry."

The commission called Wackenhut and other agencies to testify about their investigative practices on insurance claims and job applications.

The commission is preparing to make recommendations on changes in federal privacy laws. Its report is due June 10.

Both Ammarell and Eugene Fey, executive vice president of Pinkerton's Inc. of New York, the nation's largest detective agency, contended that existing laws provide enough protection for the individual and that the Privacy Act of 1974 should not be extended to cover private firms.

John Duffy, president of Per Mar Security and Research Corp., Davenport, Iowa, said the individual's rights "must be maintained," but balanced against "the right of the employer and community to be protected from any possible illegal activity."

State Auditor Releases School Allotments

The January State School Foundation Subsidy payment of $55,139,069.17 to Ohio's 613 city, exempted village and local school districts and 87 county boards of education, was reported today by State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson.

He additionally reported $2,571,294.63 was distributed to 44 joint vocational school districts representing their January allotment.

The January state subsidy payment would have been $80,022,337.23, however, the Ohio Office of Budget and Management temporarily withheld $22,315,552.16 destined for the teachers' and school employees' retirement systems because of the state's financial squeeze.

The State Teachers' Retirement System eventually will receive $17,959,382.16 and the School Employees' Retirement System will receive $4,356,170 as the employers' share of the pension program for January, Ferguson added. The 87 county boards of education received $2,567,715.90 for the month.

The 184 city school districts divided $30,781,075.85 while the 380 local school districts split $21,655,958.63. The 49 exempted village school districts shared $2,702,034.69 of the disbursement, Ferguson said.

State School Foundation Subsidy payments are sent to the 88 county auditors who distribute the amounts due the districts within the respective counties.

Salt Shortages
Plague Hoosiers

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The prolonged cold weather has hampered state efforts to stock salt, a key ingredient in combatting snow and ice.

Roger F. Marsh, executive director of the State Highway Commission, says the department faces a critical shortage of salt, thus reducing ability to melt snow and ice from roads.

A Page Of Opinion

Prediction Bypassed

Sociologists have been predicting for generations that the industrial revolution and advancing technology at some point would produce a civilization so thoroughly automated that the individual would account for little more than a digit in the population census.

Indeed, some restlessness within labor's ranks has been attributed to the dehumanizing process of automation.

That opinion is not universally shared by any means. A comparison of the living standards and working conditions with those of other eras demonstrates on the contrary this is the first age in history in which such a large number of people have felt like individuals.

Modern man has a sense of individual worth which would have been inconceivable to the 18th century factory worker. This enhanced sense of importance, however, has caused the individual to make ever increasing demands on his government.

If it is true that man is becoming more individualistic instead of robot-like, and is expressing himself more forcefully as a result, the laugh is not so much on sociologists who predicted a different outcome, but on a society which is ill prepared to cope with such a major departure from the textbook.

Ruling Class

By JIM BISHOP

Trivia in government... The snow-blind effect of the White House comes from a special paint called "Rennit Bright White." Lyndon Johnson had faucets installed which dispensed cold Fresca. You can buy a cassette of Richard Nixon's resignation speech. No one told him he was being taped.

Taft invented a bathtub which would accommodate a jackass. It was for him. Abe Lincoln got a patent on a machine which would lift vessels off sandbars. It got nowhere.

He took lessons in fundamental economics after he became prez. Kennedy enjoyed a tall foamy beer and a black cigar. One Chief Executive kept a cow on the lawn. Another, Andrew Johnson, loved mescal so much he carried bread to the cellar each night.

There is a movement in Congress to switch the national anthem from "The Star-Spangled Banner" (difficult to sing) to "America the Beautiful." Vice President Martin Van Buren was so afraid of Senate fights that he wore two revolvers when he presided over the Senate.

If one looks for an irritable ruler - as Fenton & Fowler do in their excellent "More Best, Worst and Unusual" - one cannot do better than Sultan Ibrahim of Persia. He had his eunuchs tie his 300 wives in gunnysacks and draw them in the sea of Marmora. No ERA there.

Davey Crockett was not a great congressman. One cold day he got to his feet and shouted, "Congress allows lemonade to members and it is charged under the head of stationery. I move that whiskey be allowed under the heading of fuel." Calvin Collidge hid in White House shrubbery and jumped out to scare Secret Service agents.

Karl Marx was a columnist for the New York Tribune - the only one in this craft to sponsor a world revolution. Gen. Winfield Scott had his pocket picked at a White House dinner. Gen. Ulysses S. Grant was arrested twice for driving his carriage recklessly. He paid $5 fines.

When he became prez, he was arrested again. The D.C. prosecutor refused to press charges because he said the law wasn't clear on whether a sitting president could be indicted without first being impeached. The people of Honduras have staged 138 revolutions in 150 years.

The dirtiest campaign tricks were not devised by Nixon's men. In 1960, Nixon was making a campaign speech from the rear of a train when a Democrat, attired as a railroad conductor, waved the train out of the station.

Worse, in the campaign of 1800, political enemies of Thomas Jefferson spread the word that he had died suddenly at his home. San Marino, a small republic in north Italy, has pledged that its 180-man army will not ask for nuclear weapons. The Big Bankrupt Big Apple ignored an offer by the Tigua Indians to buy Manhattan back for $24 in trinkets.

New Hampshire legislators may have to go on public welfare. Their salary is $100 a year. To close a Senate argument, Kenneth McKeller of Tennessee drew a bowie knife and swung at Royal Copeland of New York. Both were members of the most exclusive gentlemen's club in the world.

Jim Curley ran for mayor of Boston from prison. He was elected. Two years ago Francis O'Donnell was elected to the city council in Philadelphia. He had been dead a week.

Despite reports to the contrary, Gerald Ford has been in a contained rage since losing the election. In pension and emoluments, he will get a lot more money from the taxpayers for less work - 30 months - than any other Chief Executive.

John F. Kennedy has been dead 13 years. Many assumed that a sorrowful and grateful American public would build a library in his name within a year or two. It is not up yet.

Lady Bird Johnson enjoyed shopping for dresses off a rack. The Secret Service stopped the practice.

Trivia...

Some Clocks Ran Slow

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Every electric clock in the Eastern United States ran 28 seconds slow during last week's cold spell because of an overload on electric generating capacity, a utility official says.

Few people apparently noticed the slight discrepancy between their electric clocks and window clocks or watches, or the difference in time between East and West Coast points. The latter use a separate generating system and were not affected, said Ron Morten, project supervisor for the Omaha Public Power District.

Morten said the unusual slowdown began at about 6 a.m. EST on Monday, Jan. 17, when subzero temperatures caused the electrical load to exceed generating capability for the system that serves the entire Eastern United States.

"The coal piles were frozen up and they couldn't get enough fuel. Coal barges were freezing in the rivers and couldn't get the coal to the plants," Morten said.

He said electrical output slipped from the usual 60 cycles to 59.83 cycles, causing clocks to slow over the next day and a half, until they were behind 28 seconds for an estimated six hours.

To correct the time lapse, "what we had to do is overspeed our generators, running fast for an equal amount of time to get the thing back up to zero time error," Morten said.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

A number of youngsters in a local high school have taken to walking barefoot in all kinds of weather. Two of their mothers actually insist that this is beneficial to the kids' foot health, and they encourage it. What do you think?

Mrs. M. M., N.J.

Dear Mrs. M.:

An enthusiastic doctor who studied foot health in India for many years pointed out that "it's a rare barefoot walker who suffers from corns, bunions, hammer toes, ingrown toenails and athlete's foot."

This may well be true, but there are many dangers inherent in walking barefoot. Injuries, infections and ulcers are certainly less common among people who wear shoes. The filth of the streets and roads are not conducive to the cleanliness that is so important in foot care. I can appreciate the sense of freedom associated with walking barefoot in one's house. Once out in the street, get those shoes on, I say.

I would like to add an important note. Even when indoors, adults, particularly those with diabetes, should always wear slippers. Tiny, insignificant cuts can lead to infections and severe complications.

I had an operation for a Bartholin cyst of the vagina. A friend of mine told me that this is a venereal disease. How can I convince her that this isn't true?

Miss E.N., Iowa

Dear Miss N.: I don't know how good a "friend" she is for implanting such an idea in your mind. I consider most illnesses to be the private property of those who suffer from them. I don't know why such intimate problems should come up for general discussion.

The Bartholin glands around the vagina secrete fluid. When the opening to one of these glands gets blocked, a small cyst may form. Sometimes they become infected, painful and tender. A simple operation such as the one you had is no more significant than if a cyst were opened on the face, scalp or back.

Only rarely can a Bartholin cyst be infected by the germ that causes gonorrhea.

St. John's Episcopal Church in Lancaster, built in 1848, has links with the Duke of Lancaster and the War of the Roses fought 400 years before in England. Plaster roses painted white, color of the Duke of York, are sprinkled over the church auditorium ceiling which is red, color of the House of Lancaster in that war.—AP

On Books And Activities At The Library

Have you discovered the big book sale in progress at the Pickaway County District Public Library? We're adding back issues of magazines this week. This is a great opportunity to collect pictures for projects in school, Sunday school, and crafts at a minimum cost. It's also a good way to collect recipes and decorating ideas. Don't miss out on your share of the bargains. And while you're here, pick up some good current reading.

People who need large print editions will find several new popular titles added to the collection this week. If you know of someone with an eye problem, why not introduce them to this collection?

Stamp collectors will find volume 4 of Scott's 1977 Postage Stamp Catalogue now on the shelf. This indexes countries of the world P-Z.

Two new volumes with both interesting illustrations and good information deal with history. "An Ohio Portrait" by George W. Knepper was published by the Ohio Historical Society. It depicts the life and times of the 17th state as it grew to become one of the leading states in the U.S.

"Our Continent" published by National Geographic Society is a natural history of North America. The photography in this volume is outstanding.

If you're interested in the theater, the Burns Mantle Theater Yearbook "Best Plays of 1975-76" should appeal to you.

Dr. Atkins has another diet for people who watch what they eat. "Super Energy Diet" is a diet that allegedly produces a constant high level of energy and eliminates anxiety, depression and fatigue.

Non fiction titles also include

"Vendetta" by Richard Gambino. It is the true story of the lynching of Italian-Americans in New Orleans in 1891.

Daphne du Maurier is perhaps as much at home in the art of biography as she is in the field of the novel. "The Winding Stair" explains the complexity of the life and times of Francis Bacon. It covers the last 25 years in the life of this famous philosopher-scientist.

Many of our patrons are involved in the wonderful world of horses. For them, Borden Deal has written a novel about the beautiful horses and horse people. "Bluegrass" is the story of a woman's struggle to produce a line of top-quality thoroughbreds.

Iris Murdoch has her following of readers. Her latest novel, "Henry And Cato" is the story of Henry and his friends. The author determines the destinies of these people in startling turns and ironies and, in true Murdoch style, leads them to their sure fates and just desserts.

Turn-of-the-century London is the time of "Duchess", a novel by Josephine Edgar. Viola Corbett is a beautiful shoggy who attracts the nobility. Her passionate affair with an aristocrat makes an exciting story but it does not help Duchess to bridge the social gap between her world and that of the aristocracy.

If the lowered thermostat doesn't give you chills, Alfred Hitchcock's "Tales To Keep You Spellbound" will! It's a collection of 30 stories sure to please the mystery fans.

Avalon romance readers have a new selection of titles this week.

On Thursday morning at 1:45 a.m. Joe Jenkins was awakened by a call from the dispatcher at the Sheriff's department, who informed him the dome light of his truck, parked in the driveway was lit.

A patrolling Deputy had seen the light, radioed the dispatcher, who in turn had called Joe.

Although this was a minor incident, it does give a feeling of security to know our officers are patrolling the area, especially on these cold wintry nights, and is greatly appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Clarke entertained on Sunday honoring the fourth birthday of their son Kris. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to Mr. and Mrs. James Pontius, Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Pontius, Kim and Barry, Logan Elm Village, Mrs. Ann Stevens and Kris, Kevin and Kim Clarke.

Income Tax Plan Eyed By Big Labor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Officials of the Ohio AFL-CIO are giving serious consideration to a legislative measure that would permit cities to levy a graduated income tax, based on ability to pay.

The giant union, in an official publication, called the present municipal tax structure unfair and regressive because "everyone pays the same flat rate whether that person earns $200 a week or $10,000 weekly."

Union spokesman Chuck Borsari noted that the state income tax, which is progressive, ranges from 1/2 per cent on low earnings to 3 1/2 per cent on higher incomes.

"As a result the effective state tax rate on an $11,600 income, after deductions, is only .6 of 1 per cent," Borsari said. "The municipal tax rate is another story. The effective rate of the Cincinnati income tax on the $11,600 is 2 per cent—three and one-third times greater than the state tax."

Since Toledo levied the first municipal tax in 1946, 215 of the state 232 cities and 174 villages have followed suit. The tax is now "the financial mainstay of many Ohio cities and villages," according to the independent Ohio Public Expenditures Council.

In 1957, the General Assembly enacted the Uniform Municipal Income Tax Law which mandates a flat rate for city income taxes of not more than 1 per cent, unless a higher amount was approved by a vote of residents.

A number of cities are still at the 1 per cent rate, but others like Cincinnati, Oakwood, and Springfield have won voter backing for a flat 2 per cent tax.

Rep. James W. Rankin, D-25 Cincinnati, has introduced legislation that would permit chartered municipal corporations to call for a vote on a changeover from a flat rate tax to a graduated levy.

Union officials plan to meet with Rankin to discuss his bill, but they also want to see another feature—broadening of the local tax base to include income from interest dividends and capital gains, all of which are subject to the state tax.

"The latter are sources of income generally limited to upper income individuals," the union claimed.

The city income tax is a payroll levy that "derives most of its revenue from the wages of individuals."

"The reforms that accompanied the state income tax, and the experiences of other states shows that it is possible and feasible to restructure the municipal income tax—and make it equitable," the labor union said.

'Roots' Drawing Viewers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Roots" is well on its way to becoming the most watched program in television history — and the most talked about.

Word of mouth has increased its audience every night since its premiere Sunday, when ABC estimated 75 million people tuned in. By its conclusion this Sunday, ABC expects it will pass "Gone With the Wind," the highest-rated TV show to date.

Everywhere, people are talking about "Roots," a portrayal of slavery in which the white man, either casually or deliberately, dehumanizes and brutalizes the black man. The series is based on the book by Alex Haley.

Despite the nudity, violence and language, many schools are encouraging students to watch. Los Angeles schools have distributed hundreds of copies of the book for a study course beginning next week.

In Inkster, Mich., Supt. Cleveland Hammonds said, "I don't find the nudity objectionable. I think the series handled those scenes appropriately."

He said some parents were apprehensive when it was made required viewing, but "We have had no complaints from parents so far."

But in Detroit, Dr. Norman Fuqua, executive deputy superintendent, overruled elementary school teachers who made it required viewing. He said one reason was that it came on too late for young children.

"Roots" has caused varied reactions across the country, including blame for school racial incidents in Detroit and Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Find Out Why Mate Needs To Lie

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a college graduate and successful businessman. He is also a habitual liar. When we're out socially (or on vacation) he tells such outrageous lies that I'm embarrassed. He has tripped himself up so many times, then vows he'll never lie again, but he continues to do so.

It's a way of life with him. It's bad enough that he lies to others, but his constant lying to me has become more than I can bear. We've been married for 25 years and have four children.

I considered divorce because of his lying, and he dragged me into therapy. It gave me a handle on my life, but it didn't help him, so don't suggest therapy. I've offered him his freedom, but he swears he loves me and won't consider it.

I love him, but every time he lies I'm ready to throw in the towel. Maybe if I knew why he lied so much I could cope better. Help me.

FEELING HELPLESS

DEAR HELPLESS: Chronic liars are insecure people who feel they must appear better, more important or "bigger" than they really are. And they usually lie to create that impression. Others merely fabricate tales in an effort to be more entertaining. Perhaps your husband could be helped if he were to understand why he seems unable to resist lying.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old boy. Almost 16, really. I recently got kicked out of school until my parents had a talk with the principal.

Well, because of that, my dad says I can't get anything that requires a license to operate until I am 18. No car, no motorcycle, nothing with wheels.

Abby, I know I did wrong. I am sorry and I even said so, but my father doesn't believe me. How can I get him to change his mind and lower the line? Please give me some suggestions; man, two years is a long time to wait.

SORRY

DEAR SORRY: Go about your daily life, proving at every opportunity that you are a more mature, responsible boy that you have shown yourself to be previously.

Study harder, be especially courteous and willing to help around the house, and in general start a self-improvement program.

I promise you, it will be noticed, and if you change your ways, your father may change his mind.

DEAR ABBY: Please help me! Does a runaway 17-year-old girl have any rights? I have a 5-month-old baby and am living with a guy whom I care about very much. I also have a job and a roof over my head. I haven't been home since the baby was born for fear my parents would have my boyfriend arrested.

I've heard that at 17 there is nothing they can do providing I am O.K. Is this true?

HOMESICK AND WORRIED

DEAR HOMESICK: Check with the Legal Aid Service listed in your telephone book. There you will get legally sound and confidential advice.

PENNY JO CONNELL

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Penny Jo Connell and Mr. Daniel E. Bobbitt is being announced by her parents Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Connell, 371 Meadow Drive. Mr. Bobbitt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bobbitt, 450 E. Ohio St.

Miss Connell is a 1975 graduate of Circleville High School and is currently employed at McDonalds in Chillicothe.

Mr. Bobbitt is a 1976 graduate of Circleville High School and is presently serving with the US Army stationed at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

The tradition of an open church wedding will be observed at the candlelight ceremony May 27 at the Trinity Lutheran Church, Circleville.

Company lunch: that good old combination of cream sauce, diced cooked chicken, cooked green peas and pimiento strips served in pattie shells is always welcome. Mushrooms may be added — the canned variety or cooked fresh ones.

Hot Dog Facts

A recent survey of hot dog users turned up some surprises. For one thing, adults eat more hot dogs than children and women tend to eat more hot dogs than men. Also, hot dogs are even more popular than most people expect, with an estimated 95 per cent of all households serving them. Most hot dogs are eaten as the main dish of the meal, not as snacks. In addition to being served on a bun or slice of bread, hot dogs are frequently served wrapped in bacon, in a "bun" of biscuit dough and sliced up in casseroles or with macaroni.

Cut raw cranberries in half and add them to an orange-flavored quick-bread loaf.

Woody Guthrie Now Hot Property

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Woody Guthrie, the songwriting troubadour who skirted the edge of fame and fortune in his lifetime and became a legend after death, may be the hottest recording property of the current season.

With Guthrie's film biography, "Bound for Glory," now in national release, no fewer than eight separate record albums of his music are ready for distribution.

"We go in cycles," says Marjorie Guthrie, the musician's widow. "Every few years, it's time for going back to our roots. I guess people are finally realizing that Woody represents those roots."

Some of his songs — "This Land is Your Land," "So Long (It's Been Good to Know Yuh)," "(This Train Is) Bound for Glory" — have become American musical history. They are only part of an incredible output of more than 1,000 songs. Some never went beyond the small union halls where Guthrie performed.

"Without his untimely death, Woody Guthrie would have been a great star today," says Al Bennett, president of Cream Records, which has released the first of the new Guthrie albums, "We Ain't Down Yet."

"What Woody Guthrie had to say and write is probably more meaningful today than when he wrote it," says Bennett.

Critics support that view. The revival of Guthrie songs, writes Los Angeles Times critic Robert Hilburn, is "far more than simply nostalgic. ... Against the backdrop of renewed socio-economic unrest, they carry a timely message of compassion and hope."

Many of the upcoming albums are reissues of previous releases which gathered dust on record shelves years ago. But the Cream Records album has something new — Guthrie's non-musical writings spoken in a gravelly voice by recording artist Jess Pearson.

The writings, left behind in piles of notebooks, have become the property of Pearson and producer Don Gallese who conceived a Guthrie project seven years ago and began researching the folk hero's work.

Schools Report Bursting Pipes

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — School officials in suburban Cuyahoga Falls said Wednesday that pipes in 12 of the city's 14 school buildings froze and burst during last week's shutdown stemming from bad weather and natural gas curtailments.

They said they will monitor temperatures more closely to prevent recurrence.

No dollar estimate of the damage was available. Last week, pipes in five suburban Barberton schools burst under similar circumstances; and in Cleveland, Supt. Paul W. Briggs said schools sustained $200,000 damage from freezebroken pipes.

FILM FOR OVAL — Robert W. Byers, (left) manager of the Mid-South Division, Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company, is shown presenting a nature film to Jane McGregor and Tom Olson from Ohio Valley Area Libraries (OVAL). The film is one of eighteen Walt Disney nature and science movies that Columbus and Southern has transferred to the library headquarters in Caldwell. These films will be available to schools, community groups and service organizations through OVAL's libraries in the following counties: Pickaway, Ross, Pike, Scioto, Lawrence, Meigs, Athens, Hocking, Vinton and Jackson. Catalogs and other films from Southeastern Ohio Regional Libraries may be obtained or scheduled at the county library offices.

Answers For Veterans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Each week, the Circleville Herald will publish a series of Questions and Answers of interest to veterans. These questions are some of the many presented to James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer. Any veteran desiring further information on any question presented in this column or having any question concerning his Veterans Administration Benefits should contact the Veterans Service Office at 219 S. Court St.

(Q.) On a service connected death benefits, is the amount paid to the widow based on her income?

(A.) No. It is based on the rank of the veteran held on active duty.

(Q.) I've been having trouble lately with a stomach condition that developed during military service. I've been out of the service three years, and wonder if I can still apply for disability compensation from the Veterans Administration?

(A.) Yes. There is no deadline for filing a claim for a service connected disability.

(Q.) If I go to school full time under the GI Bill can I work in my spare time and still receive my monthly educational allowance?

(A.) There is no restriction that prevents you from working while attending school full time, nor does it affect your monthly entitlement.

(Q.) Is the amount of vocational rehabilitation a disabled veteran may get through the VA based on his length of active service?

(A.) No. Length of training is determined by the time required to overcome the handicap and establish employability. It is limited to 48 months, unless VA determines a longer period is necessary.

(Q.) Did a veteran have to serve in the Viet Nam Conflict to receive the Viet Nam Bonus?

(A.) No. A veteran only had to serve in the military during the dates set forth by the Ohio Bonus Commission, which are August 5, 1964 through July 1, 1973.

South Africa Catholics Integrate

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — South Africa's top Roman Catholic says his church is integrating its schools because "we could no longer live with our conscience."

Archbishop Joseph Fitzgerald, a 63-year-old Irishman who came to South Africa as a missionary in 1948, said in an interview with The Associated Press that the church hierarchy had been discussing integration for a long time.

"The door was thrown open a few years ago when the government asked us to take in the children of black diplomats," he said. "We looked at them not as children of diplomats but as blacks and took the analogy."

"If the government's new sports policy can allow a black and a white to batter one another in a boxing ring, then why can't they allow black and white children to sit behind the same desk?"

The Catholic church condemned the white-minority government's apartheid policy of racial separation in 1952 and has opposed such repressive measures to carry it out as imprisonment without trial, house searches and banning orders restricting movement.

Last week about 80 black, Indian and "colored" (mixed race) children were admitted to nine of the 171 Catholic schools for white children in South and South-West Africa. The Anglican and Methodist churches indicated they would follow suit.

First Ohio Tax Refunds Certified To State Auditor

COLUMBUS — Ohio Tax Commissioner, Edgar L. Lindley, announced that the first of an anticipated two and one half million 1976 Individual Income Tax Refund requests have been certified to the Auditor of State for printing of the checks. Commissioner Lindley said, "The first group of 3,044 refund requests totaled $49,333.28 and represented an average of $16.21 per taxpayer. We anticipate these checks will be available for mailing in the next two weeks."

Asked what taxpayers can do to speed up their refunds, the Commissioner replied that by doing the following the processing time would be greatly reduced:

Check for signatures. (Husband and wife's if a joint return.)

Attach all W-2's.

Clearly mark the refund box on the envelope.

Use the preprinted label.

The Commissioner also asks that those taxpayers not required to file a 1976 return please complete the Informational Form found on Page 15 of the tax booklet. By mailing this form the individual will assist the department in identifying legitimate non-filers who may otherwise appear to be delinquent taxpayers.

Commissioner Lindley further stated that incoming mail has to date shown a sharp decline from previous years' figures. He attributed this to the delayed mailing of the Federal 1040. He emphasized that taxpayers should file their Ohio 1040's as soon as possible.

Unclaimed Funds Draw Inquiries

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — About 25,000 persons have asked the Ohio Department of Commerce about the millions of dollars in unclaimed funds in commercial accounts.

The department said the inquiries have resulted from the advertising it did to urge citizens to investigate unclaimed funds and property being held by financial or business institutions in the names of person who have made no claim to the accounts for up to 15 years.

Telephone inquiries have been inundating the department, according to a news release, so the department is now taking only written inquiries for its Unclaimed Funds Section.

'Handicap' License Plates Now Available

Governor James A. Rhodes announced today that Ohio vehicle owners who suffer from serious physical disabilities may now apply for special 'handicap' license plates marked with the international wheelchair symbol.

In announcing details of the program, the Governor explained that the new handicap plates will enable disabled motorists to take advantage of special close-in parking spaces at many government offices and over-time parking privileges on designated city streets.

"We feel this is an important step in helping disabled Ohioans take a more active role in the life of our state," said the Governor — "and that's a big plus for all of us."

"Until now, it has been difficult for traffic officers to distinguish between vehicles that belong to disabled people and those that don't," said Rhodes. "With these special plates, it will be easy to identify cars that are legally parked in handicap zones — and make sure unauthorized drivers aren't using up all the available spaces."

Rhodes said this program, coupled with supporting legislation that requires all state and local agencies to reserve close-in parking spots for the handicapped where possible, should make it much easier for disabled citizens to complete routine transactions with various public agencies.

Rhodes said the new handicap plates will be issued for all types of vehicles. Citizens who meet eligibility criteria can obtain application forms by writing the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles, P.O. Box 1199, Columbus 43216, Attention: MVRIS.

BMV Registrar Dean Dollison listed the following guidelines for the handicap plate program:

Eligibility: Senate Bill 162, effective this month, authorizes issuance of 'handicap' plates for any motor vehicle owned by a person who:

1. Has lost the use of one or both legs; or
2. Has lost the use of one or both arms; or
3. Is legally blind; or
4. Is legally deaf; or
5. Is otherwise so seriously disabled that he/she cannot move about without the aid of crutches or a wheelchair.

The eligibility rules also require that an applicant's disability be of a 'permanent' nature — i.e., of twelve months or longer duration. The disabled person making application must be the legal owner of the vehicle on which handicap plates are to be used.

How to Apply: Persons who meet these eligibility requirements should send a written request for the necessary forms and instructions to: Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles, P.O. Box 1199, Columbus 43216, Attention: MVRIS. Forms and instructions will be forwarded by return mail.

Issuance: Handicap license plates will be issued only through BMV Headquarters in Columbus. Local deputy registrar offices cannot accept applications or issue handicap plates. Handicap plates cannot be issued until the beginning of the 1977 license year for any vehicle which has already been registered for 1976.

Fees: Annual fees for handicap plates will be exactly the same as those charged for "regular" plates in each vehicle category. No fees should be sent in when writing for application forms.

Further information on this program is available by writing the Bureau of Motor Vehicles at the above address or calling (614) 466-8390.

Hank Snow Fights Child Abuse

CLEVELAND, Tenn. (AP) — "I feel like I'm starting a whole new career," says Grand Ole Opry star Hank Snow. "And I'm excited about it," he adds. "If I can save just one child from a life of torture, my efforts will have been successful."

Snow, 66, has committed himself to a campaign to eliminate child abuse. He recently brought half a dozen country music headliners here for a concert that raised $7,000 for the Melisha Gibson Memorial Fund, named for a 4-year-old girl beaten to death in October.

"A cause like this is a natural for people in our industry," says Snow. "We're always ready to help someone."

"Most of us are just good country people who have had a hard way to go and who remember what we faced along the way."

Snow was born in Canada and says he still bears the scars of the beatings he received as a child. When he was 12 and his sister was 8, they were turned out of the house into a blizzard and left to fend for themselves.

Snow went to sea and survived two shipwrecks. After a series of jobs, he returned to Canada, formed a small band and began a tour.

"I toured Canada for 12 years, growing steadily in popularity," he says. "But America was always on my mind so in 1948, I made the biggest mistake of my life."

"I had a beautiful horse, a silver saddle and a Cadillac, but I went to Hollywood, got a string of bad managers and lost everything I had."

Finally Snow fled to Texas to make a comeback and arrived there with assets totalling $11.

In 1950, Snow joined the Grand Ole Opry. He wrote and recorded "I'm Moving On," a song which topped the record charts for 49 consecutive weeks. To date, he has released nearly 100 albums for RCA.

"I'm cutting back on my touring now," Snow says. "I was looking for something to devote my efforts to and this came along at just the right time. All the pieces fell together like a crossword puzzle. I'm devoted to this cause."

Friends and co-workers quickly noticed that Snow seemed deeply affected by the cause.

"Hank is one of the real giants in this business and I was honored when he asked me to appear tonight," said fellow Grand Ole Opry star Skeeter Davis in a backstage interview the night of the benefit concert. "But I was a little surprised because he broke down and wept when he talked to me about it."

"And I notice tonight that Hank's mingling with everyone here," she added. "That's not his way — he's a man who likes his privacy."

"So I know this is close to his heart because of the way he is acting."

BancOhio Net Income Is $3.06 Per Share

BancOhio Corporation net income before security gains and losses for 1976 was $22.3 million or $3.06 per share, a 7 per cent decrease from the record high earnings of $24 million or $3.29 per share reported in 1975.

Fourth quarter net income before security gains and losses was $5.1 million or $0.69 per share compared to the $6 million or $0.82 per share reported for the fourth quarter of 1975.

Net income after securities transactions was $22.4 million or $3.06 per share for the year and $4.8 million or $0.66 per share for the fourth quarter. This compares with the $23.7 million or $3.24 per share and $6.3 million or $0.87 per share for the same periods last year.

Robert G. Stevens, chairman, president and chief executive officer of the $3.6 billion asset corporation, said earnings in 1976 would have at least equaled 1974 and 1975, the two previous record years, except for the sharp drop in business loan demand. Average commercial loans outstanding were down by $11 million. In addition the decline in the prime rate from 7 per cent at the beginning of the year to 6 1/4 per cent at the end reduced the average yield on our commercial loan portfolio by approximately 73 basis points.

Average consumer deposits, which provide a base of funds to expand earning assets, increased by over $225 million during the year. Average total deposits for 1976 increased 11 per cent reaching a total of $2.7 billion at year end.

Stevens also noted that average consumer and real estate (primarily residential) loans increased $47.2 million. This growth in consumer loans offset the decline in commercial loans to produce an average loan growth for 1976 of 2.5 per cent. Total loans, net of reserves, were $1.5 billion at the end of the year.

The book value of shareholders' equity increased from $31.19 per share at the end of 1975 to $33.05 per share at the end of 1976. Because of the increases in loans and deposits, net interest margin increased some $4.7 million in 1976. However, this increase and a $2.2 million increase in income from services were more than offset by a $8.6 million increase in operating expenses.

The loan loss provision, included in operating expense, was $10.8 million, a $1.4 million decrease from the amount charged in 1975. At the same time, net loans charged off decreased $3.6 million for the year. As a result, the reserve for loan losses stood at $15.6 million on Dec. 31, compared to $13.4 million at the end of 1975.

Stevens attributed much of the increase in BancOhio's operating expenses to an increase in the provision for income taxes, the move to the new headquarters building, a new corporate identity program and other programs designed to enhance the Corporation's potential for growth and profitability.

Directors of BancOhio Corporation, Jan. 26, 1977, declared a regular quarterly cash dividend of 30 cents per share, payable March 10, 1977 to shareholders of record Feb. 23, 1977.

Blue Cross Rate Increase Sought

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Blue Cross of Northwest Ohio has requested a 37 per cent rate increase for nongroup subscribers, state Insurance Superintendent Harry V. Jump announced Thursday.

The increase, if approved, would be the second in the past six years, Jump said.

A public hearing was set for Feb. 9-10 in Toledo to consider the application, the superintendent said.

Monthly increases for the various nongroup plans range from $21.20 a month for one type of family contract to $4.15 for a single coverage policy, the insurance department said. Some 28,800 contract-holders under the age of 65 would be affected.

Medicare contracts for 40,800 elderly clients would be raised $1.40 to $5.05 monthly.

Anyone who failed to attend the Circleville-Madison Plains game Tuesday night at the Mill St. gym really missed out on one of the top sports attractions of the season.

During the halftime break of both the reserve and varsity cage game, there was a pair of exhibitions put on that would have put the Harlem Globetrotters to shame.

Engaging in a pair of cage contests were the "batting boys" of the Circleville Fun and Fundamental basketball program.

They came in all sizes and all shapes and what a show they put on. — There were the "beef trust" boys who handled the heavy duty and the "thinlies" who sped down the floor — dribbling the ball with one hand and holding up their pants with the other.

This basketball program is put on for the fifth and sixth grade boys and is really worthwhile — Not only does it teach the boys the game but makes them part of a team and provides them with a lot of enjoyment.

We talked to several parents that had boys in the games and they all said the same thing, "Our son has just been on 'needles and pins' waiting for tonight to roll around and bring them their moment of glory."

It showed as the boys stood in the wings waiting to rush on to the floor as if it was the NCAA finals — and when the opening whistle blew — you began to believe that it just might be that very thing.

We give a lot of credit to the Circleville coaches and players who have worked hard and long to provide these youngsters with this opportunity.

They are doing something good for the kids — And anyone who does something nice for our kids is OK in our book — because these youngsters are one of our most valuable commodities and we're for them 100 per cent.

Our "fearless" forecast — The only winner we can see in the current sports picture is "old man winter" and he is beating us all. — But wait until July and we'll see how tough he can be.

Until next time, have a nice day-be a good sport.

Northern Illinois Surprise In MAC

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Northern Illinois, picked for last in the Mid-American basketball scramble, shares the conference lead with Miami, the anticipated winner.

However, John McDougall, a rookie college coach at 52, has no illusions of a championship at this point.

"I don't know how long we can keep playing Russian roulette," said McDougall after the Huskies had won at Central Michigan, climbing into the lead (5-1) with the touted Redskins.

"I don't know how much longer we can keep the loaded barrel from coming up. But our kids have so much heart, they refuse to die," added McDougall, a coaching veteran of 26

Illinois high school campaigns.

McDougall took over a defensively poor team that won just two of 16 MAC games last year. He's built defense and confidence in the Huskies.

"I guess they believe us now," said center John Harris in reference to preseason polls by coaches and the media that relegated to a solid last place.

"We won a couple on the road last week and I think we are confident now. I've never had so much fun playing basketball as I am now," said Matt Hicks, the Huskies' principal weapon.

Hicks, a 6-foot-4 senior, is averaging 22.7 points and 11.8 rebounds, not far off his marks of 25 points and 12-plus rebounds last winter. McDougall has rounded up some talent to go with Hicks this time.

He's using the 6-6 Harris at center, 6-5 Paul Dawkins at the other forward and 6-1 Larry Walter and 6-4 freshman Jay Bryant at guards.

Dawkins, with 14 points per game, and Harris, 12.7, supply extra scoring punch. Neither Walter nor Bryant score much, but apply splendid defense.

Their play has helped Northern Illinois lower the worst defensive average (82.4) in the league last year to 67.3 this season.

The Huskies are the midst of a three-game road swing that will determine their contending status.

Northern Illinois escaped Central Michigan 82-80 Wednesday night on Hicks' 26 points, 17 rebounds and winning tipin at the buzzer. Next is a visit to Kent State (2-4) Saturday, followed by a showdown Wednesday night at Miami.

In other MAC assignments Saturday, Eastern Michigan (0-7) is at Miami, Bowling Green (3-2) at Western Michigan (5-2), Central Michigan (3-2) at Ohio University (2-5) and Toledo (3-3) at Ball State (3-4).

Tonight's Cage Slate Canceled

Circleville, Westfall, Logan Elm and Teays Valley have all canceled tonight's basketball games.

Westfall's home game with Piketon Saturday night has not yet been canceled but it is doubtful if the contest will take place.

Logan Elm has rescheduled its game at Millersport while the other three schools will reschedule their games.

Many baseball experts say the New York Mets had the best pitching staff in baseball in 1976, featuring starters Tom Seaver, Jerry Koosman and Jon Matlack.

Maryland Nips NC State, 75-73

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

AP Sports Writer

As Yogi Berra once said, "You're never out of it until you're out of it."

Yogi would have absolutely loved what Maryland and New Mexico State, both of whom were about as out of it as possible, did Thursday night, a night of miracles in college basketball.

Maryland fell behind 19-2 and never led until late in the game but recovered to nip North Carolina State 75-73 in an Atlantic Coast Conference game.

But that rally was mere child's play compared to the one New Mexico State put on against shell-shocked Bradley. The Aggies fell behind 28-0 after seven minutes — count 'em, 28-0 — and then stormed back for a 117-109 Valley Conference victory in what must rank as one of the greatest comebacks in sports history.

"Fate, destiny, what can you say?" marveled Aggie Coach Ken Hayes.

Meanwhile, in another one for the book, Centenary scored an incredible eight points in the final three seconds in defeating Northwestern Louisiana 79-71.

Those developments stole the spotlight from the four members of The Associated Press Top Twenty who saw action. Second-ranked Michigan held off Wisconsin 69-64, No. 11 Louisville downed Dayton 76-71, No. 13 Minnesota crushed Indiana 79-60 and No. 15 Arkansas mauled Southern Methodist 77-59.

Louisville Defeats Faltering UD

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Dayton basketball Coach Don Donoher, whose team became Louisville's latest victim Thursday night, predicts the 11th-ranked Cardinals will make it to the NCAA playoffs.

"The Cardinals have got the head guy who knows this game," Donoher said. "You'll be seeing them in March."

But the head guy, Louisville Coach Denny Crum, seemed relieved that his team got by the stumbling Flyers, who suffered their sixth straight loss.

"Dayton won't lose the next six in a row if they play that way," Crum said after the Cardinals pulled out the come-from-behind victory. "If they keep on shooting that way, they shouldn't have any trouble at all."

Crum referred primarily to the outside shooting of Jack Zimmerman that kept the Flyers in the game after Louisville charged back from a 34-30 halftime deficit, outscoring Dayton 20-12 in the first eight minutes of the second period to take a 52-46 lead.

But the Cardinals' deadeye shooting, hitting a sizzling 68 per cent of their shots from the field in the second half, and balanced attack, with four players scoring in double figures, were too much for the Flyers.

"We did a good job jamming it up, but they shot a great percentage," Donoher said. "They're just tough."

Donoher was particularly impressed with the Cardinals' Darrell Griffith, who scored 18 points before leaving the game with a twisted ankle.

"We tried to double team him, but if you front him he'll dunk the ball and if you play behind him he'll hit you on that turnaround jumper," Donoher said.

Wesley Cox paced Louisville with 19 points, Ricky Wilson added 16 and Phillip Bond 13.

The Flyers' Zimmerman took game scoring honors with 20 points while teammates Jim Paxson and Erv Giddings added 14 and 13, respec-

It looked like a football score as Bradley piled up a 28-0 bulge over New Mexico State. But while the Braves might have been thinking shutout, they should have been thinking win.

Albert Jones scored 28 points to pace New Mexico State's comeback, which overshadowed a 40-point effort by Bradley's Roger Phegley.

By halftime, the Aggies were within 56-50. They took the lead for the first time with 3:20 remaining on Richard Robinson's lay-up and it see-sawed until 1:53, when Robinson's 15-foot jump shot put them ahead for good 105-104.

Steve Sheppard's 20-foot jump shot tively.

The triumph improved the Cardinals' record to 14-2. Dayton now is 10-7.

In other major Ohio college basketball action Thursday night, Iowa handed Ohio State its fifth Big Ten loss in seven contests, 84-66. Bruce King, a native of Dayton, paced the Hawkeyes with 31 points and 21 rebounds.

Iowa, now 3-3 in the league, held a 20-point lead early in the second period. The Buckeyes, led by Terry Burris with 17 points, cut the lead to eight with three minutes to play but could get no closer.

Hoosier-Buckeye Conference play saw Earlham edging Defiance 72-70 behind the 24-point performance of Eric Bradley.

Tiffin downed Mid-Ohio Conference foe Mount Vernon Nazarene 89-81.

In other games, Wright State whipped Cleveland State 77-56 and Findlay throttled PurdueIndiana 96-64.

When Will Tennis Bubble Burst?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bjorn Borg strode into the interview area of the Spectrum. His long, blond hair dripped with sweat. He wore a coonskin coat. In the crook of his arm he cradled eight tennis racquets strung to an unbelievable 80-pound tension.

His strong Viking face was a frozen mask. Who could have guessed that this 20-year-old phenom of the burgeoning world of tournament tennis had just been wiped out in a second-round match of the U.S. Pro Indoor Championships?

Win or lose, Borg always has managed to retain an icy, unflappable reserve. On this occasion, there was a more understandable balm.

The ink was hardly dry on the $100,000 check he had picked up three days earlier for beating Jimmy Connors in the televised Grand Slam of Tennis final at Boca Raton, Fla. Outside in the hall, a man was waiting to offer him $1.5 million to sign a contract with the Cleveland Nets of World Team Tennis.

In the wings were two of Borg's chief rivals for world honors — Connors, the game's "hit man," a court assassin on the loose, and Ilie Nastase, the mad Romanian given to crazed outbursts which sadly blunt one of the game's greatest talents.

Connors got a reported $750,000 for signing with Lamar Hunt's World Championship of Tennis this season. He is guaranteed $500,000 for a

Italians Post Win In Monte Carlo Rally

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (AP) — Italians Sandro Munari and Silvio Maiga in a Lancia Stratos Friday swept to victory in the 45th Monte Carlo Rally, an unprecedented third straight win for the pair which also tied the record of four victories in the classic event.

Second was the Fiat Abarth 131 of France's Jean-Claude Andruet and Miss Michele Biche, 2 minutes 16 seconds behind Munari.

The two SEAT 124s from Fiat's Spanish plant were third and fourth to give the Turin auto giant a clean sweep of the rally. Antonio Zanini and Juan Petisco, 10:54 behind Munari, followed by Salvador Canelas and Daniel Ferrater Torres, at 14:32.

challenge match against Nastase, who gets $100,000, in Puerto Rico March 5, and he meets Nastase in a $100,000-winner-take-all Challenge Cup final April 10 at Las Vegas.

It is the new face of tennis — with money cascading like Niagara Falls into the pockets of the white pants brigade.

It is the "in" thing. Court complexes are mushrooming. More than 30 million now play it. And promoters with the aid of television are producing a new sports breed — young, rich, constantly on the move and thoroughly spoiled.

Everyone is asking: When will the bubble burst?

Tennis administrators are concerned. "There are 500 players seeking tournament spots— 215 in our organization," says Bob Briner, executive director of the Association of Tennis Professionals. "We have 70 tournaments in the Grand Prix this year with $8 million in prize money. Our aim is to spread the talent as evenly as possible among the promoters."

So far, no one has seen the bottom of tennis' money well. Connors earned $687,335 in prize money last season. Nastase went over $500,000, Borg $400,000. Ten players made $200,000 or more, 16 were above $100,000 and 43 in excess of $50,000.

Mostly they are kids in short shorts, with bulging bankrolls, racquets strung like Stradivariuses, an endless stream of camp followers who all look like long-tressed Farah Fawcetts — and always handy, an airplane timetable.

"What a life," someone was heard to remark in the headquarters hotel restaurant here. "You travel the world at someone else's expense and you travel with a harem."

with two seconds remaining capped Maryland's comeback against North Carolina State. The Terrapins never led until late in the game. N.C. State's Kenny Carr sank two foul shots with 30 seconds remaining to tie the score and Maryland's Brad Davis dribbled 28 seconds off the clock before Sheppard's winning shot. Carr led all scorers with 26 points and Charles Whitney added 21 for the Wolfpack. Sheppard led Maryland with 18.

Centenary scored its eight bang-bang points to turn a 71-69 squeaker into a laughier ... although there wasn't much time left for chuckling. What made the finish even more unusual was that Northwestern Louisiana also got a basket in those stunning seconds.

With three seconds left Centenary's John Pitts hit two foul shots. Northwestern Coach Tynes Hildebrand was charged with two technical fouls and Centenary converted three more points. Then Centenary's Kevin Starke drove for a basket, was fouled and sank a free throw to complete a three-point play. Northwestern's Billy Reynolds got a basket as time ran out.

Olympian Phil Hubbard scored 20 points and teamed with Ricky Green, who had 19, to lead a second-half surge that carried Michigan past Wisconsin. The Wolverines took the lead for good with 15½ minutes left and went on to their 150th victory since Coach Johnny Orr took over in 1968-69.

Louisville trailed Dayton 34-30 at halftime but the Cardinals shot a sizzling 68 per cent in the final 20 minutes. Wesley Cox led the way with 19 points and freshman Darrell Griffith added 18.

Indiana, which only won the national championship last season, dropped to 9-7 over-all and 3-4 in Big Ten play when Minnesota's Michael Thompson outscored All-American Kent Benson 35-25.

Arkansas, unbeaten in Southwest Conference play, took a 40-21 halftime lead against SMU and coasted the rest of the way. Marvin Delph was high man with 20 points.

Elsewhere, Texas Tech upset Houston 84-83 on freshman Kent Williams' shot with one second left in overtime; Billy McKinney sank all the floor shots and Northwestern hit a perfect 24-for-24 free throws — six by McKinney — in defeating Michigan State 66-58, and football quarterback Tony Flanagan scored 12 points in the second half as Georgia rallied to beat Georgia Tech 60-51.

Kite, Zender Lead Tourney

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Bob Zender and Tom Kite performed some last-hole heroics for the lead in $180,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open, but they had to be keeping an anxious eye on threatening Tom Watson.

"You'll see the good players, the Millers and the Greens and the Nicklauses and, hopefully, the Watsons, they get on a streak and they ride the momentum until the wave runs out," said Watson, a winner 18th week and looking for another triumph.

And Watson definitely has the momentum still going.

He scored only the second hole-in-one of his pro career — an eight-iron shot that hit to the left of the hole, ran about three feet past, then sucked back into the hole — on his way to a six-under-par 66 Thursday that left him one shot back of Kite and Zender, each of whom birdied the final hole for 65s.

Watson, a former British Open champion who has finished fourth and first in his last two starts, was tied with Homero Blancas and Lon Hinkle. At 67, five-under-par, were veteran Don January, Leonard Thompson, Bill Rogers, Barry Jaeckel, Rick Acton, Australian Bob Shearer, Dennie Meyer and rookie Jay Haas.

Ben Crenshaw headed a group of more than a dozen at 69. Defending champion J.C. Snead had a 71, while Arnold Palmer, playing with a painful sprain in his right hand, was far back at 74.

In all, 81 of the starting field of 156 bettered par 72. Most of the low scores came on the shorter, easier North course, which Kite, Zender, Blancas and Watson all played. All players switched courses today and the final two rounds will be played on the 7,047-yard South course. Each layout is a par 72.

ONE STOP does it all!

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.

FOR SATURDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Friends, associates may want to change some plans. Consider carefully before objecting. You may see new values.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): If dubious about certain matters, give them further study and, if necessary, seek expert advice. In leisure time, devote yourself to a hobby for a change of pace.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Some "fireworks" indicated in personal matters. Don't become overly emotional. Learn the "whys and wherefores," then handle astutely.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Do not fret over delays or disappointments. Meet obstacles with composure: YOU can overcome them all.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Do not let a desire for comfort or pleasure cause you to neglect duties important to your future. Be tactful in making requests, not demanding.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Be careful in your approaches. Also, be enthusiastic about all endeavors or your efforts may not impress, may not produce the results you desire.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): One of your ideas which others might consider "visionary" seems to have solid foundation, so give it more thought and don't let others discourage you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): A day calling for flexibility. Don't adhere rigidly to a course when new developments definitely call for a change of policy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Your impulse to "get going" should be checked until associates are ready to join you. Forcing matters will only lead to dissension.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): With further thought, you now see possibilities in hitherto barren areas of achievement so, if you're in a mood to take a chance, go ahead. Success likely.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Good stellar influences. Especially favored: real estate interests, home improvements, family concerns and social activities.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): You may not be in the best position to take action on a cherished project just now, but that needn't deter you from keeping your plans in mind.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a fine mind, lofty ambitions and a truly scintillating sense of humor. You have the "gift of gab" and can sell yourself and your wares to anyone - even total strangers. You loathe anything that seems "dull" - whether people or tasks - but you MUST learn to adapt yourself. There are times when one has to deal with those of slower comprehension, must carry on with tedious chores. Fighting them only makes them more difficult. Your talents are many, but you could especially shine as artist, journalist, musician, designer or decorator. Birthdate of: Wm. McKinley, 25th Pres., U.S.A.; Thomas Paine, early Amer. writer; Paddy Chayefsky, screen writer; Emanuel Swedenborg, Brit. mystic, philosopher.
